BENEFICIARY PROFILE

Eunice Akowuah

Eunice Akowuah is a Ghanaian postgraduate student currently offering Real Estate at the Henley Business School, University of Reading. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Land Economy from the Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST) in Ghana.

The IREBS Foundation for African Real Estate Research provided sponsorship for her accommodation expenses for her postgraduate study. With this funding, she has completed her studies successfully.

Her dream is to become a lecturer at the Department of Land Economy at KNUST and obtaining an MSc in Real Estate, paving the way to continue at the PhD level. With this, she can expand the boundaries of her technical expertise by making researches, solving problems, and overcoming challenges based on the principle of continuous improvements in Africa.

She also hopes to inspire the girl child to pursue real estate courses to promote diversity in this sector in Ghana through her role as a lecturer in KNUST.
