

IRE|BS

Foundation for African Real Estate Research

BENEFICIARY PROFILE

Joseph Kwaku Kidido (BSc, MSc, PhD)

Dr Joseph Kidido is a lecturer in the Department of Land Economy, Faculty of Built Environment, College of Art and Built Environment, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, Kumasi, Ghana.

In 2015, Dr Kidido received a grant from the IRE|BS Foundation for African Real Estate Research to collect research data for his PhD thesis on youth land access. He successfully completed in 2017 and a number of peer reviewed articles as well as conference papers were produced from the research.

Also in 2017, Dr Kidido was sponsored by the Foundation to attend the 17th Annual AfRES Conference in Johannesburg, South Africa, where he presented a research paper.

“Indeed, grants from the IRE|BS Foundation have helped to advance my academic career and research profile”, Joseph says. “The network and experiences gained from the conferences have also positively shaped my teaching and research skills for quality real estate education and research in my Department.”

Category of Funding (2017):
Conference Participation